This is a great worksheet to help your students review the topics of chromosomes, karyotypes, and the various stages of mitosis and the cell cycle. The worksheet begins by presenting the students with a karyotype for analysis. The words haploid, diploid, gamete, and somatic are vital to student success. Next, students are presented with 18 images of cells in various stages of the cell cycle (interphase, prophase, metaphase, anaphase, and telophase). Knowledge of mitosis and the cell cycle is essential for understanding genetics. This worksheet includes notes, fill-in-the-blank notes, chromosome disorder sheet, worksheets, and answer key. This can be a one day activity, or if you want to expand it to two days, on the second day students could pick a genetic disorder not used in the worksheets and create their own karyotype. Page 3 Karyotype matching activity Biology 30 by This aligns with Alberta Biology 30. prepare and interpret models of human karyotypes by using hard-copy or online resources - You just have to cut these and have your students try to match the description/name of the chromosomal mutations as groups of 3-4 - students enjoy this activity, I told my students that they were scientists and had to figure out what kind of mutations the patients had- I recommend printing one uncut copy for yourself so you can go around and quickly check student answers -Karyotyping Labby 1 use this lab with my students to give them a chance to see how geneticists use Karyotyping to identify different genetic mutations/disorders in offspring. The students will be matching chromosomes together and identifying if the offspring has a genetic mutation or not.KARYOTYPING LAB - Geneticsby Students examine 10 karyotypes to determine gender and the presence/absence of a disorder. They answer analysis questions that follow. Lab includes:Eight pages with background karyotypes, & 17 discussion questionsAnswer KeyGet TPT credit for future purchases!Go to your "My Purchases" page. Ploidy and Karyotypes Interactive Diagramby These interactive diagrams are terrific for science teachers teaching their students about Ploidy and Karyotypes in a distance learning or blended learning environment. These click-and-learn diagrams are Google Slides files designed to be used in several possible ways.* First, the teacher can use them to click and reveal different parts of the lesson as they teach on their own teaching video, which is ideal for flipped classrooms and other blended learning model classrooms.* Second, the teacherTypes:Karyotype Inquiry and Exploration Labby Miss Taylor's Education CenterIn this lab students will work with partners or small groups to explore abnormal karyotypes. How I lead it with my class is we took notes on Karyotypes and then spend the remainder of the period (about 20-25 minutes) working on this lab.Each lab table got one picture of each of the karyotypes and one normal karyotype picture to compare with. The descriptions were cut in half so that the descriptions were separate from one another. The students would observe the karyotype and figure out which abnormalKaryotypes Powerpointby Science Lessons That RockIn this lesson, students will learn about karyotypes, and practice identifying normal and abnormal karyotypes.
